

An orchestra that performs as well on stage as it does on paper.

A close-up photograph of a woman with dark hair tied back, playing a cello. She is looking intently at the instrument, with her hand on the bow. The background is slightly blurred, showing other musicians in an orchestra setting.

An opportunity to get in front of a very successful and influential audience.

When you partner with the Atlantic Symphony Orchestra as a corporate sponsor, you're not only contributing to an amazing season of orchestral music, but you're making an important statement as a company. For the communities in which you do business, the arts are appreciated and respected. To sponsor the ASO is a tangible way for you to demonstrate shared values with your customers.

Here's how to get involved.

There are as many ways to get involved as there are ideas. The ASO will work with you to help meet your community partnership or marketing goals. Individually tailored season and concert sponsorships are available, along with underwriting for special programs and projects. In-kind sponsorships are another effective and mutually-beneficial way of supporting the ASO. Whether you're "open to ideas" or have some of your own, we will work with you to provide something valuable to your business and customers in alignment with ASO's brand of excellence in the community.
